Economic and Market Commentary June 2018

During the month of June, the two-year US Treasury rose 10 basis points to 2.53% and the benchmark 10-year Treasury remained unchanged at 2.86% from the end of May.

In June tariff talk dominated markets. President Trump threatened a host of trade-related actions, most of which remain only rhetoric. Acknowledging the rip-roaring U.S. economy and stellar labor market, the Federal Reserve raised its policy rate 25 basis points in June, bringing the target range for the federal funds rate to 1.75-2.00%. More importantly, the Fed's infamous "dots" now indicate the median Committee member sees a total of four rate hikes in 2018 (two more rate hikes for the year), up from the only three expected rate rises forecast at its March meeting. The median member also sees three additional rate hikes in 2019, bringing the target rate to 3.00-3.25% by the end of next year. The unemployment rate was 3.8% in May and firms added 223,000 net, new jobs to nonfarm payrolls over the month. Wages in May improved modestly, growing 2.7% from a year earlier.

The recent Mexican presidential election removes a hurdle to restarting the renegotiation of the North American Free Trade Agreement. In the euro area, the European Central Bank held rates constant but suggested their bond purchases will wrap up in Q4 2018. On the positive side, Eurozone PMIs for June were better than expected with the composite output PMI rising from 54.1 to 54.8 (vs. 53.9 expected). In the U.K. the Bank of England met, with three out of eight members of the monetary policy committee voting to increase rates by 0.25%. Whilst two of the members that voted for a hike are serial hawks, it was the inclusion of Andy Haldane, chief economist and well-respected member, that prompted market participants to increase their expectations of an August hike.

Florida Trust Day to Day Fund

The Florida Trust Day to Day Fund posted a total return of +0.17% in June, in line with the benchmark ICE BofAML Three Month Treasury Index return of +0.17%. The net 7-day SEC yield of the Day to Day Fund rose to 2.02% as of the end of June, up from 1.94% at May month end. Fiscal year-to-date, the fund has returned 1.22%, versus the benchmark 1.09%. We continue efforts to maximize portfolio yield, while still adhering to the strict investment guidelines required by Fitch to maintain the AAA rating (the fund discontinued the use the S&P rating services in March). We continue to evaluate high-quality corporate securities for the portfolio, and search for value in commercial paper and corporate notes that enhance yield and adhere to the guidelines of the fund, with a focus on liquidity.

As yields on commercial paper continue to remain well over 2%, we continued to add to the allocation during the month, purchasing from issuers such as Intel, Simon Property Group, and Roche Holdings. We remain constructive on floating-rate securities as LIBOR continues to keep pace with short Treasury yields. During June, exposure to floating rate securities was approximately 41%; the portfolios holds floaters in corporate, agency, mortgage-backed, and Treasury sectors. Use of these securities allows addition of yield without extending interest rate risk, making them beneficial to portfolios in rising interest rate environments.

The weighted-average maturity of the portfolio ended the month at 40 days. Repurchase agreements remain a significant holding, at 28% of the portfolio. The yield available on repurchase agreements purchased for the portfolio, backed by US Treasury collateral, ranged from 162 bps to 197 bps, with an average of 179 bps during June. The fund remains highly liquid with approximately 45% of the portfolio invested in overnight and short-term securities. Additionally, 46% of the portfolio is invested in government or government guaranteed securities, also enhancing liquidity. Net contributions were approximately $16 million in June.
